

Craftsman Houses in America, 1898–1928

The home in Salt Lake City was designed and constructed in the Arts & Crafts style through the collaboration effort of John Shirley (owner), Lillian Clouston (interior), and Steve Clark, project manager for Clark Wright Construction. The building team was to build a new house that would blend with the style of an older bungalow neighborhood.

